

Kevin Donoher had a runner to challenge him this year, took 2 and 1/2 minutes off his time from last year when he easily won, but had to settle for second this year to Fruita High runner Chuck Bisbee. Pushing each other they turned in the fastest times since 2007 on a fast dry course. Jill Whinnery cruised to the women's win.

The race was pushed back a week this year to avoid the usual early season mudholes but, of course, this year everything dried out early and would have made for good running even several weeks before. Go figure. We'll probably move it back to its usual slot before the 4th and take our chances. Some things we can always count on, though, are brilliant wildflowers, cool running and great Striders camaraderie! Thanks for the great showing!
